

New Rocket Orbits for America

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A new robot observer sped through far reaches of space today to find out just what kind of sailing for astronauts is created when the solar winds of radiation blow over earth's magnetic fields.

Seven hours after the launching of the "Windmill" scientific package from this missile test center Tuesday night, officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported on the basis of radio signals that the satellite experiment "looks good."

NASA scientists, however, reserved final judgment. That was because the elongated orbit—perhaps well beyond 54,000 miles out at the far point—would take so long that second-pass readings would be late. Those would show whether orbit was achieved, and the shape of the path.

The space traveler had been tracked by six observation stations, at Johannesburg, South Africa; Ascension Island; Santiago and Antofagasta, Chile; Lima, Peru; and Woomera, Australia.

Named Explorer II, the package is expected to tell scientists more clearly than ever before how solar radiation influences conditions on earth and how great a hazard it is to manned space travel.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was reluctant today to label the space messenger a satellite, but there was every indication it was in successful orbit after its launching from this rocket center Tuesday night.

"Yes, I think we have an orbit," reported Dr. John W. Townsend of NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center.

But because an extremely elliptical orbit was sought, Townsend said it may be as long as 62 hours after launch before it can be definitely confirmed.

Explorer XII was aimed for a

60,000 May See 4-States Fair-Rodeo

An estimated crowd of 60,000 people will view the 17th annual Four States Fair Parade in Texarkana on opening day of the Fair, Sept. 11, The Fair Assn. extends an invitation to all cities and towns, organizations, business and industrial firms in the area to enter floats in the float competition.

Six beautifully engraved trophies will be awarded the winning floats in the following classifications:

Best Commercial and Best Non-Commercial Float with a Western Historical or Pioneer Theme.

Best Commercial and Best Non-Commercial Float in a General Classification.

Cities and towns may enter as many floats as they desire. For example, various civic clubs and organizations or business firms may enter individual floats, or the C of C may make an entry in the name of the entire town.

The parade will begin at 4 p.m. announcing the official opening of the 1961 Four States Fair and Rodeo. The weeklong celebration will be held at the Fairgrounds in Texarkana and will spotlight the nightly appearances of popular TV actor, Dale Robertson, who will be the featured attraction of the famous Tommy Steiner Rodeo.

Because the parade will be lined up in three sections, it will be necessary to specify the classification in which each float is to be entered. Entries will be notified of their number in the parade lineup when lineup is complete.

Float entries may be obtained from the Four States Fair office, 819 State Line in Texarkana, and should be returned by no later than Tuesday, Sept. 5.

El Dorado for 2nd Look at Gas Hikes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—El Dorado City Atty. James V. Spencer

asked the Public Service Commission Tuesday to take another look at three rate increases Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. has put into effect under an escalator clause.

The increases, effective on Nov. 1, 1958, 1959 and 1960, totaled 7 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas—or 63 cents on the average residential bill.

"They are separate from the 70 cent increase Arkla tacked on to its minimum bill April 1 and which is now being studied by the PSC after a lengthy hearing."

The increases were put into effect under a rider to Arkla's rate schedule which permits the company to increase its rates whenever the wholesale cost of gas goes up.

However, Spencer said in a petition filed with the PSC Tuesday, Federal Power Commission records show the cost of gas to Arkla rose only 3.2 cents during the period for which Arkla got a 7 cent increase.

Spencer asked the PSC to make Arkla justify the increases at a hearing or to require the company to refund any money collected illegally.

PSC records show Arkla boosted its price 3 1/2 cents an MCF in 1958, 1 1/2 cents an MCF in 1959 and 2 cents an MCF in 1960.

The rate rider was filed Oct. 1, 1958, a month before the first increase. Spencer said cities got no notice of the filing and that the public had never been given notice before the annual increases went into effect.

Spencer was Arkla's principal protagonist in the recent hearing on the minimum bill increase. He handled most of the direct examination of witnesses for protesting cities and cross-examination of company witnesses. He was aided by George Holmes, city attorney at Pine Bluff. Several cities joined in the protest.

Holmes said Tuesday that eight cities have agreed to pay $6,340 of the cost of the minimum bill fight, which he estimated at $7,000. He said Pine Bluff has agreed to pay $2,500; El Dorado 1,000; North Little Rock 1,000; Camden 500; Benton 500; Conway 500; Norphlet 500 and Mineral Springs 40. He said he would ask officials at Morrison and England, which also protested the increase, if they want to share the cost.

"The cities hired a rate expert and a certified public accountant to help their case."

City Machine to Dig Shelters

EUDORA, Ark. (AP)—Persons who want to construct fallout shelters in Eudora have so far failed to take advantage of an offer of the city's ditch-digging machine for excavation work.

But Mayor D. L. Hall said Tuesday that he was not discouraged. He said several residents of the city have written to Civil Defense for shelter plans and may later take advantage of the offer of the machine.

"The City Council voted Aug. 7 to make the machine available at no cost to residents who wanted to construct fallout shelters."

"We thought it would be a step forward," Hall said, "a public service to help our taxpayers."

Legislature to Meet on August 24

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he would call a special fiscal session of the Legislature for Thursday, Aug. 24, instead of the previously set date of next Monday.

Faubus said the heavy volume of work necessary to prepare for the session caused the postponement.

The new date is three days later than that previously selected.

Cuba Pushes for Some of Yankee Aid

By ROMAN JIMINEZ

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Cuban economic czar Ernesto Guevara tried to open the door today to Communist advisers for President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress but ran into a stone wall.

Delegates from the other 20 Inter-American nations at the Inter-American Economic Conference brushed aside Guevara's proposals and in committee unanimously approved a 1,000-word "Declaration to the Peoples of America" summing up the new program of economic aid and self-help for Latin America. Cuba abstained.

70,000 State Figure for Medical Aid

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Between 60,000 and 70,000 persons are expected to qualify under the state's expanded medical care program for the aged, with federal grants to pay some 80 per cent of the anticipated 7 million annual cost.

State Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said Tuesday that the once-delayed program is tentatively scheduled to begin Sept. 1 but might be postponed again if actions at a forthcoming special session of the legislature endangered state money for the program.

Some of the state's share of the new program was provided in a $1.4 million increase in the Welfare Department appropriation by the regular 1961 legislature.

The medical program, already approved by the federal government, was to have gone into effect July 1, but Adams ordered the delay one day before the program was to begin.

"If the legislature does reopen appropriations," Adams said, "then we'll have to delay the medical care for the aged program again." But he said he did not anticipate such a development.

Benefiting from the program would be single persons 65 and older who have incomes of less than $1,200 and married persons whose income is less than $1,500 who are ineligible for medical care and hospitalization under existing health programs. The program would provide hospitalization, home nursing care, drugs and limited dental care.

Ray Boyle Is Speaker for Scottish Rite

"Foundation Stones of Freemasonry" was the message brought by Ray N. Boyle of Malvern, 33rd degree Mason, to more than 100 people at the annual Ladies' Night of the Hempstead Scottish Rite Association at the Hotel Barlow Tuesday night, August 15.

The message, prepared by Eugene Smith, Little Rock Consistory Secretary, listed five types of stones in masonic structure—historical, patriotic, intellectual, moral, and fraternal.

"Masonry is an institution with an interesting history," the speaker said before briefly outlining it. He also said, "Masons have always striven for the advancement, enlightenment, and happiness of mankind. The two precepts of masonry are the two great commandments in the Holy Bible."

Monroe Samuel, vice president, presided in the absence of the president Paul Klipsch. The secretary, Harry Shiver, introduced the visiting dignitaries, and John Durrett of Little Rock made a few remarks before he introduced the speaker for the evening.

Russia Scoffs at West for Trying to Help East Berlin

West Berlin Irked by 'Go Slow' Policy

BERLIN (AP)—Indignation swept West Berlin today at word that the Allies oppose drastic action against Communist closure of the divided city's border.

Reports of Western reluctance to counter the tightening East German restrictions came in the wake of a Red threat to repeat the 1948-49 Berlin blockade if Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government cuts off trade with the East.

West Berlin officials predicted that outbursts against the cautious Allied stand might erupt at a giant rally Mayor Willy Brandt called this afternoon to protest the Communist squeeze. At least 200,000 were expected to turn out.

The West Berliners were already voicing their indignation over the Western position.

"They're selling us down the river," said one.

Many West Berliners looked for Adenauer's government to act on its own against the Communists if the United States, Britain and France would not go along.

The chancellor two days ago spoke in favor of a complete Western trade break with the Soviet bloc. The Bonn government has said it would act only in accord with its Allies, but with national elections only a month away, Adenauer undoubtedly is under pressure at home to take concrete measures against the Communist East German regime's ban on East Germans traveling into West Berlin.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe said in Washington Tuesday night that measures more than theoretical would be taken against the new Red barrier. The Bonn government announced the lower house of the German Parliament would meet Friday to take its own counter-measures.

The U.S., British and French governments were at work on notes to the Soviet government protesting the restrictions on German movement in Berlin. But U.S. officials in Washington said privately that no strong counter-measures could be taken because the Red barricade applied only to Communist territory. They pointed out that the Communists in effect were only doing to East Germany what they did years ago to the rest of the Soviet bloc and that Western access to West Berlin, by both West Germans and others, so far had not been impaired.

At Helmsstedt, chief rail and highway crossing near the middle of the 935 mile border, no East German cars were allowed through after midnight. No East Germans were on trains crossing the Bavarian border.

The East German government made no announcement concerning the situation. But it threatened Tuesday to put on another blockade like that in 1948-49 if West Germany cuts off East German trade in reprisal for the travel restrictions in Berlin.

Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, commander of Soviet troops in Berlin, has taken no notice of the protest of the three Western commanders Tuesday against the new Iron Curtain across the city.

But he replied to an earlier protest against harassment of East Berlin workers commuting to West Berlin, and told the Western commanders they "cannot be taken seriously."

The Western protest Tuesday said the barricades have turned the city into an armed camp in flagrant violation of Soviet agreements to maintain Berlin as a four-power city.

Cattleman's Speaker in Kiwanis Talk

Burgess Garrett, Executive Secretary of the Arkansas Cattleman's Assn. with headquarters in Little Rock, was principal speaker before Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday at its noon luncheon meeting.

The Assn., Mr. Garrett pointed out, carries on an educational, legislative and public relations program designed to promote the beef industry in Arkansas.

The beef and cattle industry is now a major agricultural commodity which in recent years has replaced much cotton acreage as well as other crops, including truck farming. More than a million beef cattle is raised annually in Arkansas.

Here in Hempstead County, the speaker pointed out, the beef and poultry industry has taken the lead in agricultural production, replacing what once was large cotton and watermelon crops.

Arkansas is producing top quality beef, but of course like other industries, we have our problems, too. He spoke of much improvement in breeding methods and said the state has produced one $50,000 bull — and that's a lot of bull.

Mr. Garrett appeared on the program arranged by Fay James. Guests included Harry Thornton, Little Rock; Fred Wren, Prescott; Gary and Carol Fisk of Hope.

Beatles Attack Arkansas Pine

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Curly Seymour, state Plant Board entomologist, said Tuesday that pine trees in Little Rock and other parts of the state are being threatened by black turpentine beetles, little resistance to the insects in the Little Rock area that they are probably increasing.

New Tough Rules Cut Berlin Trade

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists cut down on already limited travel by their own citizens to Western Germany today. It was their most vigorous interference with traffic between the two Germans since Berlin's new crisis began.

The latest Berlin trouble was generated Sunday by barricades erected against East Berliners going into West Berlin and against West Berliners going east unless they get special permits. Today the clampdown was extended beyond Berlin to the borders between East and West Germany.

West German guards all along the border said the arrival of East Germans at crossing points practically stopped.

Freight trains and trucks were permitted to travel in both directions as before, and Westerners going into East Germany were allowed through as long as their papers were in order.

But East Germans on west-bound trains were ordered off at the West German border, even though they had visas and permits issued by Communist authorities.

At Helmsstedt, chief rail and highway crossing near the middle of the 935 mile border, no East German cars were allowed through after midnight. No East Germans were on trains crossing the Bavarian border.

The East German government made no announcement concerning the situation. But it threatened Tuesday to put on another blockade like that in 1948-49 if West Germany cuts off East German trade in reprisal for the travel restrictions in Berlin.

Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, commander of Soviet troops in Berlin, has taken no notice of the protest of the three Western commanders Tuesday against the new Iron Curtain across the city.

But he replied to an earlier protest against harassment of East Berlin workers commuting to West Berlin, and told the Western commanders they "cannot be taken seriously."

The Western protest Tuesday said the barricades have turned the city into an armed camp in flagrant violation of Soviet agreements to maintain Berlin as a four-power city.

Reports of Western reluctance to counter the Red closure with economic reprisals came in the wake of an East German threat to repeat the 1948-49 blockade if Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany cuts off trade with the East German regime.

West German border guards reported the first sign of Communist interference with travel between East and West Germany proper. Guards at Bebra and Lauenburg on the border said East German travelers were taken off trains when they reached the checkpoint.

At Helmsstedt, the chief crossing point for highway traffic, guards reported remarkably little traffic from East Germany. At Luebeck, where normally six cars arrive from East Germany in a morning, none arrived today.

No East Germans were aboard trains crossing the Bavarian border today.

The West Berliners' feeling that they have been let down by the Western powers was reported to have impressed Edward R. Murrow, head of the U.S. Information Agency, who left after a three-day visit.

"They just shoveled the frustration at him," said one person with Murrow at a reception attended by West German officials.

Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander in chief of the U.S. Army in Europe, arrived in Berlin for a conference with American troop commanders and had a talk with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

The British ambassador to West Germany, Sir Christopher Steel, also arrived today. U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling is coming Friday.

In Bonn, Adenauer met for an hour with the Soviet ambassador, Andrei Smirnov.

Brush-Off Is Given by Red Col. Solovyev

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Col. Andrei I. Solovyev told Western military commanders today that they "cannot be taken seriously" in their efforts to do anything about easing the plight of East Berliners.

The Soviet note came as indignation swept West Berlin because of Allied opposition to drastic action against Communist closure of the divided city's border.

The commander of the small Soviet garrison left in East Berlin replied to a protest made nearly two weeks ago against harassment of East Berliners commuting to work in West Berlin.

He has yet to take notice of the three Western military leaders' protest of Tuesday that a new Iron Curtain across Berlin has stopped the commuters entirely. The protest said Communist measures have turned the city into an armed camp in the most flagrant violation of four-power agreements since the 1948-49 blockade.

In a letter to Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, U.S. commandant in Berlin, Solovyev said: "The attempts of the commandant of the American garrison in Berlin to interfere with measures of the German Democratic Republic are completely inappropriate. These measures are exclusively within the competence of the government of the GDR and serve the rightful interests of the republic and its citizens."

The Soviet colonel said Watson was "trying to extend to East Berlin" the "out-lived occupation regime artificially supported by the American authorities in West Berlin."

Reports of Western reluctance to counter the Red closure with economic reprisals came in the wake of an East German threat to repeat the 1948-49 blockade if Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany cuts off trade with the East German regime.

West German border guards reported the first sign of Communist interference with travel between East and West Germany proper. Guards at Bebra and Lauenburg on the border said East German travelers were taken off trains when they reached the checkpoint.

NYC School Board May Quit Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's embattled Board of Education was expected to decide today whether it will bow to a demand by Mayor Robert F. Wagner that it resign. Wagner, who is seeking re-election, appointed the nine-member board.

The Democratic mayor called Monday for the wholesale resignation, saying he was acting on recommendations of a three-man board of inquiry he had named to look into the city's steadily mounting school problems.

The Republican state administration, headed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, has served notice it is prepared to force out the school board. Rockefeller has ordered the legislature to convene in special session next Monday to look into the situation.

The board, beset by charges of construction fraud and inefficiency, has withstood all demands that it resign.

In its report to Wagner the inquiry board said it is "our opinion that in the best interests of the educational system, the members of the Board of Education should voluntarily tender their resignations at once to be accepted at the pleasure of the mayor."

The inquiry board recommended appointment by Wagner of a nine-man panel of outstanding citizens to nominate and screen prospective members of a new board.

Dr. James E. Allen Jr., state education commissioner, has recommended that the State Board of Regents appoint a board to succeed the city's board. He also called for legislation that would permit the city schools to operate free of what he called "restrictive controls and influence."

Coming in the heat of a bitter mayoralty campaign, the fast-breaking school developments brought scores of new accusations.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, the Democratic organization candidate who is opposing Hagner in the Sept. 7 mayoral primary said Rockefeller "had no choice but to call a special session of the legislature to meet head on the rapidly worsening education crisis."

State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Leflon's candidate for mayor, said Wagner idly watched the situation "deteriorate from a grave problem into an acute crisis."

Embargo of Berlin Would Hit U. S. A.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The threat to cut off Western trade with the Red bloc could upset the plans of a number of American companies—both importers and exporters. But its total effect on U.S. world trade would be slight.

Its effect on the trade of some of our allies would be much greater, since they have cultivated the flow while we often discouraged it.

And the threatened embargo could hurt the economy of Soviet satellites such as Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany most of all.

The threat was voiced by East German Chancellor Adenauer, whose country would feel the embargo most of any of the Western group. He said a complete trade stoppage is one of the moves the West is considering to meet increasing Soviet restrictions in the Berlin crisis.

The word from Washington is only that such trade suspension is under consideration. London seems reluctant at the moment. All along, the United States has blocked any trade by American corporations with Red China but let the Soviet Union get goods regarded as of no or little military use, on an export license basis.

American exports to the Soviet Union and its European satellites increased in 1960 to a 13-year high of $193.4 million. Much of the jump was accounted for by agricultural sales to Poland. Imports held unchanged at $80.9 million.

We sent wheat, cotton, iron, some types of steel, soybeans, chemicals and some industrial equipment. We got from them meat, furs, platinum. The Soviet Union produces about one-fourth of world's new platinum supply each year.

Until the Berlin crisis, American businessmen had looked for a further increase in two way trade with the East because of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's promises to increase Russian consumer goods consumption.

America's allies have been doing much more business with the Reds and some of it in goods and materials we hold to have military value.

Adenauer's West Germany—whose big market in the Red bloc is East Germany—exported to the Communist world machinery, chemicals, and steel worth $536 million in 1960. In return it got $472 million worth of farm products and lumber, among other things.

Although shipments to the Red bloc have been increasing this year, the total is still too small to make much of a dent in our foreign trade as a whole.

The $193.4 million export trade with the Reds last year barely shows in the over-all figure of $26.6 billion of commercial goods and services—that is, excluding those involving military or other government backed transactions.

The $81 million of imports from the Reds compares with a total nongovernment inflow of goods and services of $23.6 billion.

American enterprises that would feel any embargo of trade with the Communists include farm products and such consumer goods as the tightly run economies of the Soviet Union and its satellites will admit.

To increase this trade in American products, both the U.S. government and private corporations have taken part in industrial and other fairs in Red nations. But America businessmen knew all along that the trade they might wide-swinging course designed to take it as far out as 54,000 miles from earth and bring it back to within 170 miles at the low point. Each pass around the world would take 31 hours, compared to a normal satellite circle of about two hours.

With four large paddle wheels extending from its body and a 32-inch rod protruding from the top, the payload resembles the spinning vanes of a windmill.

The paddle wheels were covered with solar cells to capture energy from the sun. Atop the rod was a sensitive magnetometer.

The space agency reported the payload instruments were to make the most extensive probe yet attempted of the earth's magnetic fields and other fields in space and their interaction with solar winds—great clouds of ionized gases which burst from the sun and zip through space, distributing cosmic rays, electrons, protons and other energetic particles.

Many earlier satellites charted magnetic fields and space radiation, but Explorer XII is the first to investigate them simultaneously.

During periods of high solar flare activity, billions of charged particles that bombard the earth causing magnetic storms and upsetting radio and television communications.

Information radioed from the windmill payload could help plot the least hazardous course for man to take when he rockets through the sea of radiation en route to the moon or the other planets.

generate would be subject to any changes in political policies by either the Red governments or their own.

ment of the 3,000-word Charter of Punta del Este which sets forth the principles of the program in detail. The shorter declaration was drawn up with the idea that it could be more easily understood by Latin America's masses.

After approval at a conference plenary session today, both will be signed Thursday when the conference closes one day behind schedule.

There was speculation whether Guevara would sign for Cuba. But other Latin American delegates said even if he did, the U.S.-controlled agencies that will handle the bulk of the financing won't advance any funds to Cuba.

Guevara said his country cannot fully support the program until it gets a "clear and concise answer" from the United States whether Cuba is in or out of the alliance family. U.S. delegates steadfastly refused to commit themselves.

In the late night committee session that finally whittled the declaration into shape, Guevara made his pitch for Red technicians with an amendment saying that "experts"—could assist Latin American republics in their development schemes. This was interpreted as an attempt to give Soviet bloc and Red Chinese experts a foothold in countries that will receive U.S. aid under the program.

A U.S. spokesman announced that two reports from the U.S. Embassy in Caracas, produced by Guevara earlier in the conference as evidence of U.S. interference in Latin America, were stolen from the automobile of U.S. Ambassador Teodoro Moscoso when a leftist mob burned it in Caracas in June.

One of the documents, prepared by the labor attaché at the Caracas embassy, criticized certain administrative procedures and tax systems of the Venezuelan government. The other, reviewing Latin American feeling on Cuba after the abortive April invasion said the United States probably could not persuade a majority of the Latin American states to join in a quarantine of Cuba and that even if it did Mexico and Brazil would refuse to cooperate.

Moscoso at the time of the attack on his car was attending an art exhibit at Caracas University. The spokesman could not explain car or what precautions had been taken to guard it.

Policy Group Slammed by the Legion

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Executive Committee of the Arkansas Department of the American Legion has launched a campaign against a group called the American Foreign Policy Association.

Clovis Copeland, public relations chairman of the state Legion, said Monday the Legion will publish advertising against the association before the group holds an initial meeting here Thursday.

The Legionnaires join members of the John Birch Society in Georgia and an Atlanta American Legion post in criticizing the association.

Duck Limit Cut in Half This Year

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Interior Department today cut the daily limit on ducks in half and sharply trimmed the hunting season. Game and Fish Director Nelson Cox said.

Cox said he received word of the new hunting regulation in a telephone call from Frank Briggs, assistant secretary of the interior.

The Interior Department provided for a season of 30 consecutive days, down 10 days from last year. It may be set any time between Oct. 13 and Dec. 30.

It reduced the daily limit from last year's four ducks to two ducks. The possession limit was cut from eight to four.

The department also cut an hour a day off the shooting hours. Last year shooting was allowed from 30 minutes before sunrise to 30 minutes after sunset. This year the hours are from sunrise to sunset. Shooting will start at noon the first day of the season.

Two options were given the states, which must actually select the season.

If a state chooses a season of 20 consecutive days instead of 30, the daily kill limit may be three ducks and the possession limit six. Or a state may choose to have a split season, with the limits two and four, but take a three-day penalty—making the total number of shooting days 27.

Cox said the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission probably will set the Arkansas season at its meeting Aug. 28.

Cox said Arkansas authorities were disappointed at the regulations, which were stiffer than had been hoped for. The department acted to sharply reduce the duck kill in the Mississippi Flyway, of which Arkansas is a part, and the Central Flyway because of a very sharp decrease in duck flights.

Eastern Arkansas is a major duck hunting area.

The Interior Department also reduced the goose season from 70 days to 60 days. The limit remains five geese, of which only two may be Canada geese.

The white oak is the state tree of Connecticut.

sent them to congressmen.

The Georgia Legion has called the group un-American and charged several of its leaders with spreading "alien philosophies."

Copeland said an Atlanta Grand Jury brought in a report critical of the FPA's work. A subsequent Grand Jury cleared the group after another investigation and said the FPA was doing a worthwhile job.

Warden's Death Is Suicide

BRADLEY, Ark. (AP)—A verdict of suicide has been returned in the shotgun death of game warden Charlie A. Fish, 52, who was in charge of the Bradley Game Reserve near this Lafayette county town.

Fish was found slain near his automobile parked in downtown Bradley Monday night. He had been shot with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Dr. R. H. Harrison, the Lafayette County coroner, said a coroner's jury made the suicide ruling.

Boat Death Hearing Is Postponed

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A 14-year-old Mabelvale boy accused in a boating fatality on Lake Ouachita probably will not go on trial until after a special session of the legislature is completed.

Municipal Judge W. R. Mitchell Tuesday postponed the case until next week but said it probably would have to be reset because one of the attorneys in the case is state Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock. The legislature is scheduled to begin a special session next Monday.

The boy was docketed on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of 9-year-old John Henry Stradle of Pine Bluff. The youth was freed on bond.

Young Stradle was killed when an inner tube on which he was floating was struck by a motorboat operated by the defendant.

The boat was owned by Damon and R. W. Hall of Mabelvale, who will be tried on charges of violating a state law prohibiting minors from operating motorboats.

Husband Tormented By Hobgoblins

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: You say "Forgive and forget," but I find that might be hard to do. My wife left my bed and board for another man one year ago, after 11 years of fairly happy married life. The man is separated from his wife but not divorced.

She took our older child. The young one who remains with me, never ceases to pine for his Mommy. While I don't support her (the other man pays those bills), I still dream of a reconciliation. But, should this occur, won't I be haunted by hobgoblins of the past? I am tormented now by their night and day. Regardless of personal feelings, wouldn't it be better for all concerned if I filed for divorce and started a new life? —Unhappy Husband.

Dear Unhappy: There are some cases where, religion permitting, divorce is the realistic solution. Before starting proceedings, either write to, or talk with your wife; tell her what you intend doing and ask her, for the children's sake, to carefully consider all angles of this tangled situation. Has she any plans of her own? Does this man intend to divorce and marry her? How about the older child's education? These issues must be thought through. Then, if a reconciliation does occur, you will have a working pattern to follow. But such a reconciliation cannot last unless you possess the will power to forgive and forget.

Dear Helen: I have been married nine years to a wonderful and devoted man; good looking but, two inches shorter than I! As the years pass this discrepancy in height assumes the proportions of a real problem. Some think I'm too pretty and interesting to

Mrs. James Moss and Cathy of Greenville, Texas and Airmen Lee and Mrs. Quentin Hargen of Little Rock were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rowe and Jimmie.

Met Opera May Tour the Orient

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera, which threatens to cancel its 1967-68 season because of a contract dispute with the musicians union, is negotiating for a Far Eastern tour next spring.

Herman E. Krawitz, Met business administrator, said Monday that the negotiations are centered on the Osaka Festival in Japan next April and May.

The U.S. State Department has been approached on the possibility of official sponsorship and financial support for a tour of the Far East.

The plans are still vague. A 12 to 14-week tour through several Japanese cities, Manila in the Philippines and perhaps Australia is envisioned.

About 200 persons would participate, with American performers filling most principal roles. Chorus and ballet performers would accompany the principal singers. The company would perform with local orchestras instead of the daughter's diary? My mother promised she would never read mine, then did when I wasn't home. There is nothing in my diary to be ashamed of but it hurts me to have her break a promise. —M. C. N.

Dear M. C. N.: I don't know your mother's side of the story but a diary is the private property of the individual who keeps it and as such, is in the same class with a personal letter. On the basis of what you tell me, your mother should not have read your diary nor broke her promise.

GOP Women in Blast at Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Greater Little Rock Women's Republican Club doesn't agree with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that opposing Democratic Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas would be a waste of time.

In a resolution released today, the women protested Goldwater's comment on Aug. 9 indicating that a Republican couldn't beat Fulbright.

The resolution said the expressions of many Arkansas voters "are much more in line with Republican party philosophy than with our Democratic junior senator and his liberal support of the liberal Democratic party platform and principles."

The women called for a careful appraisal of the Arkansas political climate presumably to see if an opponent should be offered against Fulbright next year. The women commended Winthrop Rockefeller, Arkansas GOP national committeemen, for remarks in answer to Goldwater in which he indicated the GOP should oppose Fulbright.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, also is expected to draw Democratic opposition next year. Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., and Gov. Orval E. Faubus are the most prominently mentioned as possible primary opponents for Fulbright.

French Town Bars Bikinis

SAINT TROPEZ, France (AP)—Saint Tropez, one of Brigitte Bardot's favorite display areas, is threatening to fine the bachelors who parade the Riviera resort's streets in bikinis.

With popular attire briefer than ever this year, the town's council dug up an old decree levying fines of 30 to 40 francs for being improperly dressed.

Bathing suits now may be worn only on the beaches. Robes must cover them in town.

Met's own orchestra, which usually has 92 musicians in the pit. Krawitz said arrangements could not be completed until the first of next year. He said various unions with Met contracts had been notified of the negotiations.

He said the possibility of a Far Eastern tour would depend to a large degree on the availability of principal artists.

"We may very quickly find that there are not enough available," he said. He added, however, that the chances of a tour "appear more hopeful to me than a season in New York."

Alfred J. Manuti, president of Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians which is deadlocked with the Met management, said he doubted that the Met is still interested in a regular 1967-68 season here.

Federal and city mediators will make new efforts Wednesday to settle the dispute between the Metropolitan Opera Association and Local 802.

Xmas in August for Fort Smith

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—For the fourth straight year, the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Godard Memorial Methodist Church had a Christmas party in August.

Santa Claus cavorted and brightly-wrapped packages were piled under a gaily-trimmed tree. But the guest of honor wasn't there.

The party was for a Korean orphan, 5-year-old Chian Sook. She's never been to one of the parties, although she gets the gifts from each one. Presents at this year's party, held Saturday, included dolls, coloring books and toys.

The party must be held in August so the gifts can be mailed in time to reach Korea for Christmas.

St. Joseph's Stripped of Its Trophies

SEATTLE (AP) - The executive committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association has stripped St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia of its third-place ranking in the NCAA Basketball Tournament.

The school also was directed Tuesday to return trophies and medals awarded to it and to individuals on its team.

A regulation which has been in force several years but never was invoked was the basis of the action.

Three of the school's players, involved in basketball gambling scandals, were declared ineligible after the tourney. The regulation on which the committee acted states that if an athlete competes ineligibly, the position of his school in a championship event must be vacated.

Therefore, there is no third-place winner in the national tournament. Utah, which placed fourth, remains in fourth place.

The three players involved were Frank Majewski, Jack Egan and Vince Kempton.

The committee set up a policy aimed at making it more difficult for gamblers to operate in connection with NCAA tournaments. The events are to be held on campus if possible. If that is not possible, the host school will have complete supervision and management if the event is approved.

The sites of the four regional basketball tournaments were announced. The East regional will be at the University of Maryland at the Midstate at the University of Iowa, the Midwest at Kansas State and the West at Brigham Young University. All will be March 16-17.

The University of Kentucky will host the finals March 23-24.

Schedule to Favor Reds Over Dodgers

BY CHRLEAS MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - People who keep looking for the Cincinnati Reds in the obituary columns instead of the won-and-lost columns will be dismayed to learn today that the subject is still more dead than dead.

Even after their 5-2 victory over Los Angeles Tuesday night, the Reds were four games behind the Dodgers in the lost column—and one game back over-all. But if the Reds have no advantage here, they may have one in the remainder of the National League schedule.

After their doubleheader with the Dodgers tonight, the Reds will have only 12 games left on the road and 23 at home. The Dodgers play 27 on the road, only 14 at home.

Even when you take into account that the Dodgers have been more successful abroad than at the Coliseum, the schedule still seems to favor Cincinnati. After tonight the Reds will have 12 games remaining with first division clubs, the Dodgers 20.

Moreover, the Reds will be idle 10 days during September. This may permit manager Fred Hutchinson to lighten the load on his young pitchers, who have come upon troubled times lately. He could, in fact, use his top three starters almost exclusively.

"I don't really know if the schedule will be a big advantage," Hutchinson said. "We just hope that's the way it works out."

"We're still four games down on the loss side. Those are four games that the Dodgers have got to lose—that we've already lost."

The banana originated somewhere in southeast Asia.

Best Season Forecast for Pro Football

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) - Chuck Bednarik sees the 1961 National Football League season as one of the most challenging in his 13 years with the Philadelphia Eagles.

"Not so much for myself," says the 235-pound center-linebacker. "I've accomplished personally all the things I've wanted from this game. But this season is a challenge to the team."

An all-NFL star, Bednarik referred to disparaging remarks made this past winter about the Eagles, comments that their 1960 championship was a fluke, the best team didn't win.

Taking a few minutes off from training chores at the Eagles' preseason camp in this eastern Pennsylvania countryside, Bednarik said, "We've got to prove by winning again that we're real champions."

The NFL's iron man played 394 1/2 minutes in 12 league games last season.

Bednarik, who has missed only three of 147 games since the Eagles made him their bonus pick for the 1949 season, says 1961 should be his last as an active player.

News Briefs

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan charged today the Western powers are afraid of economic competition with the Soviet Union and prefer to gird for war.

"They are afraid this kind of race will mean their destruction," he told a group of Japanese and foreign dignitaries in a 30-minute speech opening the first Soviet trade fair in Japan.

"Let's stop polishing our swords," said the big man in the Soviet government. "Let's stop waving atomic weapons at each other. Let's produce food, clothing and housing so that all the people of the world can live better."

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—William Watson Whitfield III of Jacksonville, Fla., has waived extradition to Florida and probably will be returned there later this week on charges of transporting stolen money across state lines through the mails.

A federal commissioner Monday set bond at $20,000. Whitfield was arrested here by the FBI last Thursday. He is accused of mailing the cash to Jacksonville Aug. 5.

He also is wanted for questioning in the Aug. 2 theft of $17,000 in cash from a car parked at Ponte Verda Beach, Fla. The money belonged to O. L. Hudgins of Des Arc, Ark.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope John XXIII left his summer residence here today to say a Mass for peace in this village's parish church.

The church is in the square just outside the pontiff's summer residence. The Pope walked the short distance through the square, packed with cheering villagers and holiday tourists.

Today was Italy's annual Ferragosto or August holiday when nearly everybody goes to beach or mountain. It was also the religious feast of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary.

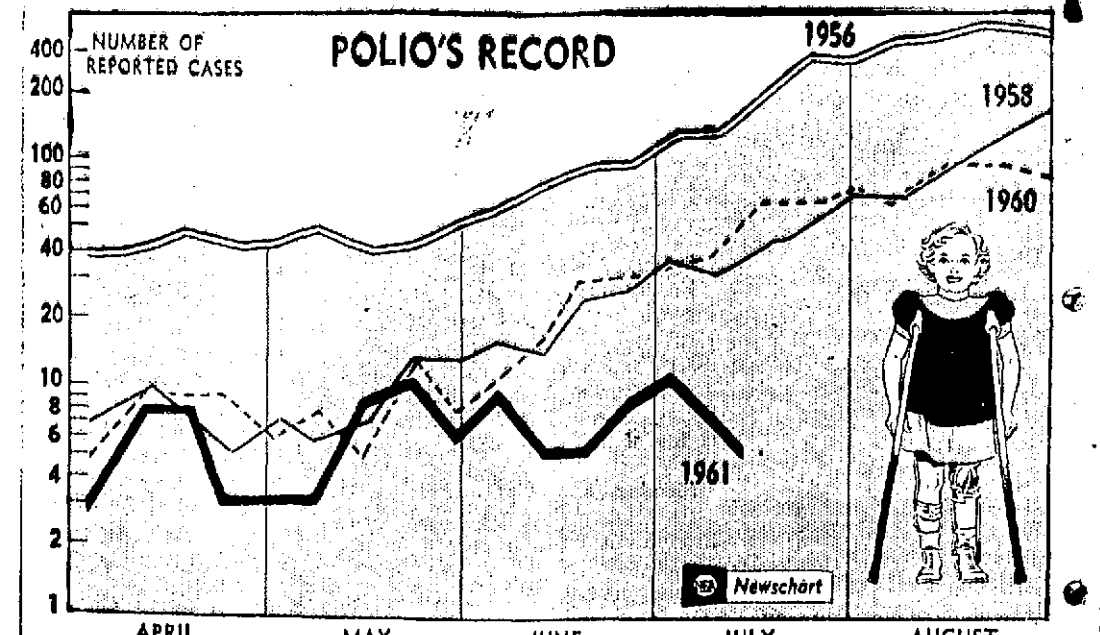

The little church was packed.

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week. He met with newsmen last Thursday.

Airline Folds, 6,000 Stranded

LONDON (AP)—A private British airline announced today it had gone broke and was suspending operations, leaving 6,000 vacationing Britons on the continent with worthless return tickets.

The airline was Overseas Aviation. Its chairman, Ronald Myhill, a 42-year-old World War II pilot, said the firm was nearly $2 million in the red. Its 20 planes were grounded Monday after the British Petroleum Co. cut off gasoline supplies because of $700,000 in unpaid fuel bills.

HEALTHY SIGN—According to latest figures reported to the U.S. Public Health Service, cases of paralytic polio continue at a remarkably low level, although the peak months for the disease are now at hand. Chart contrasts 1961 with three previous years.

Men prefer deodorants that do a "man-sized" job instead of just providing a fragrant cover-up. Especially effective is one with an applicator head larger than the average roll-on and a container that is hand-contoured.

SUSPENSE SETTE

A Short Short Story

It had been many years since the Wilsons rode the Honeymoon Express to Buffalo.

BIRD OF TIME

By LESTER ARNO

Well, by George! said Henry Wilson, rattling his evening newspaper.

"Now, Henry, don't carry on so about those baseball players," Martha Wilson's voice was placid, assured.

"I'm not carrying on about any baseball players. Look what those idiots have gone and done. They discontinued the 'Honeymoon Express'!" Henry glared at a world gone mad. "It says here that the 'Honeymoon Express' made its last run from Niagara Falls to Buffalo."

Martha was silent.

"Fifty years ago," she thought to herself, "our honeymoon."

Henry looked over the top of his paper. "Wasn't she a pretty little thing?" he reflected.

"He was handsome!" Martha peered over her glasses at her husband. "Though he was a rake, I remember pretending to be horrified when he sang that ragtime song. He'd have died if he'd known I used to play it for Papa and Mama on the player-piano. All three of us sang it, too."

He lit a cigarette, automatically passed it to his wife. Then he lit another for himself.

"I remember how he got me stop smoking the second day of our honeymoon."

"I remember how he got me to take my first puff of a cigarette. He said if the President's daughter could smoke on top of the White House roof, I could smoke in our hotel room. I told him I wasn't Alice Roosevelt and he said he hadn't married Alice Roosevelt."

"Those silk stockings she wore. With the clocks embroidered up the sides."

"Those shoes with the funny fronts he had on. — I remember. 'Bulldog Toes,' he called them."

"She bought me one of those 'Billiken' dolls for my desk. It was supposed to resemble Mr. Taft."

"He gave me a Dresden figurine. A ballerina."

"I read to, her from 'Omar Khayyam'."

"Come, fill the cup, and in the fire of Spring repentance fling; The Bird of Time has but a little way To flutter — and the bird is on the wing."

Half hour later, each was still awake.

In the darkness of the bedroom, Henry gently touched the Billiken doll on his nightstand; Martha silently caressed the Dresden ballerina on hers.

"The Bird of Time has but a little way To flutter — and the bird is on the wing."

"Sure, Helen's face has launched a thousand ships — and it's beginning to show it!"

Reds Whip Dodgers; Now One Game Out

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Right-hander Joey Jay, backed by Wally Pate's tie-breaking home run, gained his 17th victory by shutting out Los Angeles on three hits over the last eight innings as Cincinnati beat the first place Dodgers 5-2 Tuesday night and edged within one game of the National League lead.

Third-place San Francisco defeated St. Louis 3-2, Milwaukee made it five in a row with a 4-1 job on Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Cubs sent the last-place Philadelphia Phils to their 10th straight defeat 6-5. The modern NL record for consecutive losses is 19.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat New York 2-1, ending Whitey Ford's winning streak at 14 games and shoving the Yankees' lead over Detroit to two games. The second-place Tigers beat Baltimore twice, 2-0 and 3-2. Boston bopped Cleveland 8-0, the Los Angeles Angels beat Washington 8-7 and Minnesota defeated Kansas City 9-4.

Jay beat Los Angeles for the fourth time in six decisions this season by blanking the Dodgers on three hits over the last eight innings. The young right-hander, set to become Cincinnati's first 20-game winner since Ewell Blackwell in 1947, finished with a six-hitter after giving up three hits in the first when the Dodgers scored on singles by Duke Snider and Wally Moon.

San Francisco managed just four hits but beat southpaw Curt Simmons 7-0 in the Cards with two runs in the sixth in sacrifice flies by Orlando Nephed and Jim Davenport.

Home runs by Frank Thomas and Hank Aaron did it for the Braves, with Aaron's 31st of the year a two-run shot that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth and beat Joe Gibbon (8-9). Carl Willey (5-6) was the winner, giving up five hits.

Detroit Puts Up Fight for League Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone scratched Detroit from the American League race, forget it. The Tigers look as if they mean to stay close enough to pounce on their first pennant in 16 years in their final two showdown encounters with the first place New York Yankees.

Fact is, if the bounce-back Tigers can keep it up, it might be the Yankees who are scrambling to get back on top when they meet again Sept. 1-3 at New York and Sept. 15-17 in Detroit.

Anyway you look at it, it's strictly a Tiger-Yank race—with Detroit's Frank Lary pressing Yankee Whitey Ford as the AL's top pitcher. Tiger Norm Cash battling New York Elston Howard for the batting title and Cash, Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline in the running with Yanks Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris for the Most Valuable Player Award.

Those four big men in Detroit's pitch for a pennant kept the Tigers on the prowl with a double-header sweep over Baltimore Tuesday night. Lary won his 17th with a four-hit shutout in a 2-0 first game victory decided by Cash's two-run homer. And Kaline then delivered the payoff single in a three-run ninth that won the nightcap 3-2.

Southpaw Juan Pizarro knocked off the Yankees 2-1, meanwhile, by allowing just four hits, one Maris' 48th home run, as the Chicago White Sox ended Ford's winning streak at 14 games and shaved New York's lead over Detroit to two games.

In the other AL games, Boston banged Cleveland 4-0 with five home runs, the Los Angeles Angels defeated Washington 7-7 and Minnesota cracked Kansas City 9-4.

In the National League, second place Cincinnati trimmed Los Angeles' lead to one game by beating the Dodgers 5-2. San Francisco defeated St. Louis 3-2, Milwaukee rapped Pittsburgh 4-1 and the Chicago Cubs handed Philadelphia its 18th straight loss 6-5.

Lary (17-6) gave up nothing but singles while hanging up his third shutout. He struck out five and walked only two in a double four-hit duel with loser Chuck Estrada (9-7) and Hoyt Wilhelm, Cash, who has a two percentage point lead over Howard in the batting race at .357, settled it by socking his 30th home run, with Colavito on base, in the seventh inning.

The Tigers then battled back from defeat in the nightcap for their sixth success in eight games, coming from behind on four consecutive singles off loser Hoe Brown (9-4) and relievers Billy Hoelt and Wes Stock with two out in the ninth. Chico Fernandez started the rally with a one-out double before Reno Bertoia, pinch-hitters Bubba Morton and George Alusik and Kaline singled. It was Alusik's first major league hit. Gerry Staley (2-4) was the winner in relief.

The White Sox handed Ford (20-3) his first defeat since May 29 on Camilo Carrero's two-out, two-run single in the second inning. Pizarro (8-5) struck out 10, twice fanning Mantle (10-for-4), and didn't have any trouble except for Maris' fifth home run in five games in the fifth inning. That broke a tie between Mantle and Maris and sent Roger 14 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

Maris Irate Over Homer He Missed

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris was an angry man Tuesday night after hitting his 46th homer of the season for the Yankees.

Maris' flow of words did not stem from the homer, which put him one ahead of Mickey Mantle in their tremendous duel with Babe Ruth's 60-homer record the objective. Rather it stemmed from the home run he didn't hit as the Chicago White Sox nipped the Yankees 2-1 behind the four hit pitching of Lefty Juan Pizarro.

"It couldn't have been foul by more than this much," growled Maris, holding his hands about three or four inches apart. "It was fair all the way until the final second. Then the darn thing hooked behind the pole."

The near miss occurred in the sixth inning. Roger had walked in the first and socked his 46th homer in the fourth. Then, with a 2-2 count, Maris pole-axed a curve that headed for the third tier. At the last second, as Roger said, the ball hooked foul and the crowd of 49,059 groaned.

"That makes it about five or six near misses I've had this year — that I know of," he complained. "They say those things even up. That's a lot of hogwash. They never do. All I know is they owe me about four because I got two homers this year on drives that hit the foul pole."

As long as he was in the mood, Maris got a few more gripes off his chest.

"Gosh, I'm tired," he complained. "I could use a good rest. This has been a real long season for me. Why don't they go back to the 154-game schedule. Playing 162 games is too tough—much too long."

'Frisco Swaps Tittle to New York

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 49ers' veteran quarterback, Y. A. Tittle, has been traded by the San Francisco National Football League entry to the New York Giants.

In exchange, the 49ers, now basically a young club in the third year reign of Coach Red Hickey, picked up lineman Lou Cordileone, 23.

Tittle, 35, is a 13-year pro veteran, 11 in the NFL, the last 10 with San Francisco. He owns the best pass completion average of any active quarterback, 55.3 per cent. In his 11 NFL campaigns, one with Baltimore, he completed 1,387 of 2,510 passes for 17,900 yards and 116 touchdowns.

He was 69 of 27 for 694 yards and 4 touchdowns in 1960, a season that saw him plagued midway by a groin injury and the installation of Hickey's new spread offense — "my quarterback-run-with-the-ball shotgun."

Cordileone, 6-3 and 255 pounds out of Clemson, was the Giants' first draft choice in 1959. As a rookie in 1960 he saw service as an offensive guard-tackle and a defensive tackle-end.

The trade was made after Saturday's exhibition game between the two clubs. The Giants won 21-20, but Tittle almost pulled it out.

He came off the bench, rallied the 49ers from a 21-13 deficit and then hit Monte Stickles in the end zone. But the play was called back.

ATLANTA, TEXAS — SPECIAL

ATLANTA, Texas (Special) — The fur industry is intrigued and keenly interested in the beauty of the clear, light shades of high color nutria garments being produced by Voight Nutria Farms, Inc. of Atlanta, Texas. The pelts utilized in the manufacture of these garments were bred, produced and readied for market right on the Voight Ranch. These furs have bred into them those qualities every woman desires in a fur: attractiveness, eye-appeal and glamour.

Nutria meat is a gourmet's delight and at this time is already being sold in most of our leading cities by the better food stores. Plans for a nutria meat processing plant in this area is now in the formative stages. Mr. Merlin Voight, president of Voight Nutria Farms, Inc. has stated that the amount of meat available will determine how soon a plant can be built. There is already a good market for this meat product and it is now bringing premium prices.

Atlanta is fast becoming the nutria center of the United States and the ranch operated by Voight Nutria Farms, Inc. is the largest nutria ranch in this country. Mr. Voight states that the nutria industry is in its infancy at this time and that there is room for newcomers. It is possible that those of you who enjoy the country life and might be interested in animal husbandry might be interested in getting in on the ground floor of this new industry. Nutria are vegetarians and eat Johnson grass, Bermuda grass and small portions of small grains thus keeping production costs very reasonable. If you entered into such a business and followed the advice of an experienced rancher such as Mr. Voight, you could in a relatively short time have a very lucrative business. One of the most appealing things about this operation is that the initial cost of nutria can be fully depreciated and made a legal deduction on your income tax over a three year period.

Voight Nutria Farms, Inc. is fully equipped to meet every need of this new industry through each of its stages. They have on their Atlanta ranch all the equipment necessary for pelting and a machine for the accurate removal of excess meat and fats from the pelts thus increasing the value of the pelts. Mr. Voight has stated that he is now selling bred females for the price of $100.00 each and up depending upon the type and color desired. Another interesting feature about this type of industry is that a start can be made with a very few animals. Mr. Voight gained his start in the fur industry with six mink in 1937 and today his Wisconsin mink ranch produces thousands of pelts and at the present time there are over two thousand nutria on the ranch located here in Atlanta, Texas.

If you have an interest in this type of operation, Mr. Voight states that he will at all times be happy to discuss the matter with you, give you the benefit of his experience in the form of advice or assistance on your own nutria ranch, or if you desire Voight Nutria Farms, Inc. has a service which it can render nutria owners whereby all the experience of Mr. Voight and the equipment of Voight Nutria Farms, Inc. are available to said owners. If you wish to see these pelts or the garments manufactured from these pelts or just see the simplicity of the operation, you can drop by Voight Nutria Farms, Inc. here in Atlanta, Texas at any time and Mr. Voight will be happy to show you the operation.
